Claim Rejections—35 U.S.C. 112, First Paragraph:

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-22, 24, 25, 27, 28, and 30-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

According to claims 1, 5, 13, and 28, the resend request includes information identifying a storage area where the requested data is stored. The specification nowhere teaches how this task is performed. According to the specification, the address of the bad data is determined, and this address is transmitted to the source of the bad data. The specification fails, however, to explain how this determination is accomplished. Claims 2-4, 6-12, 14-22, 24, 25, 27, and 30-33 depend on claims 1, 5, 13, and 28 and are therefore similarly rejected.

Response to Arguments:
